

Bias Against Whites Is Charged P.O.

EDITORS NOTE — The recent promotion of three Negroes in the Dallas, Tex., post office touched off a hometown controversy that spread to Washington. Just how are post office employees selected for promotion and how much leeway do postmasters have in making promotions?

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A month ago, three college-educated Negroes won promotions in the Dallas, Tex., post office. What pushed them ahead—ability or the color of their skins?

The promotion of the three set off a tempest in Dallas and in Washington. Some critics cried discrimination against whites.

This Dallas controversy may be a harbinger of things to come, for tempests like it may brew again and again in the Negro struggle for better jobs and better conditions.

Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., who represents Dallas, says the promotions there show that "in a direct appeal to racial prejudice and in an effort to submit to threats of violence, the administration has ordered that civil service procedures be ignored and promotions made strictly on the basis of race."

Clarence Mitchell, Washington representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, dismisses this argument. "The Dallas promotions," he says, "were just one of those things where the government is trying to correct an inequity."

Some postal unions contended that the most qualified of the three Negroes was promoted over 53 white postal workers higher on the Dallas promotion list.

Lee C. White, President Kennedy's assistant special counsel in charge of civil rights, says the promotions were made in accordance with all civil service commission requirements.

The Dallas story began in May 1961 when the Post Office Department inaugurated a "merit promotion plan." Before then, according to Richard J. Murphy, assistant postmaster general in charge of personnel, local postmasters could pretty much decide on their own just whom they would promote.

Under the present plan, workers qualified for promotion are put on a list in order of special point totals. These totals are based on (1) their score on an examination for prospective supervisors, (2) their years of service, and (3) a numerical evaluation given them by their two immediate supervisors.

Murphy says the list is not a strict qualification list; postmasters are not required to promote the top man when an opening comes.

When a list has less than 100 names on it, the postmaster may pick any man on the list. But, when a list has more than 100 names, the postmaster, unless he has permission from Washington, must try to pick someone from the top nine. The Dallas list had 400 names.

Last January, Postmaster General J. Edward Day called 600 postmasters to the University of Oklahoma for an unusual seminar. Among the topics discussed was the post office's "program for progress"—a plan to end any discrimination against Negroes and other non-whites in post office hiring, training and promotion.

Under the plan, postmasters of large offices must make monthly reports on their progress. The aim is to report to President Kennedy next March that the post office has developed a comprehensive equal employment opportunity program.

In another aspect of the program, the post office announced a new policy of refusing to lease space in any building that has segregated facilities and of refusing to give a substation contract to any proprietor who runs a store with segregated facilities.

In addition to the University of Oklahoma seminar, 27 postmasters and four regional postal officials from the South have been called to Day's office in Washington since May 23. He has asked them to speed up their programs to end any possible discrimination.

Murphy says Day and other Washington officials did not instruct the Southern postmasters how to do this. The method, Murphy says, was left to the local officials.

During this campaign, Murphy says, Day discovered that the Dallas post office, unlike other offices in Texas, never had a Negro supervisor. Day wrote local officials in Dallas and asked them to look into the matter.

Navy Jet Crashes, 7 Are Dead

By LEE LINDER

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A pilotless Navy jet crashed on a baseball field Sunday, then careened in flames into a day camp bathhouse, killing seven persons at a family picnic.

Four children were among the dead. The pilot of the jet bailed out safely a half mile away.

One man was killed as the plane, its wings ripped off when it ploughed through trees, hit the field during a sudden rainstorm. Bodies of the other victims were dug out of the leveled bathhouse.

At least 17 of the 125 or more persons at the picnic were injured. Twelve were admitted to Abington Memorial Hospital, one in serious condition.

Killed were Jennie Klein, 36; her daughter, Sandra, 10, and her son, Harvey Klein, 4; Jeanne Arnold, 40, her daughter Judy Arnold, 17; Emanuel Milton Fine, 47, and Caroline Herschfield, 10. All lived in Philadelphia.

Capt. John W. Butler, Boiling Springs, Pa., 30, a Marine Reserve pilot, was headed for a landing at Willow Grove Naval Air Station, 18 miles north of Philadelphia, when something went wrong with the FJ Fury fighter. Navy spokesman said they didn't know what caused the malfunction, adding that it apparently occurred in the electrical system.

Capt. Albert Waldman, commander of the base, said, "We will determine what happened."

The end of the airfield's landing strip is only 500 feet from the Green Hill Day Camp which the picnicers had rented for their annual reunion. They were members of either the "Roseman Cousins Club" or the "Weiner Family Circle," with parts of both groups related to each other.

Capt. Waldman said butler is a member of the 511th Marine Fighter Squadron.

"As far as we know the pilot lost control of his plane and we don't know the reason why. There was nothing physically possible that the pilot could do to control the airplane so he just bailed out."

Butler, who is married, was in seclusion. His commanding officer, Col. David M. Dancer, couldn't be reached for comment.

Butler apparently had steered his craft for what he believed was an unoccupied field. A clump of trees obscured the bathhouse and adjoining two-story building.

Rail Issue in the Lap of Congress

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meet today to map their next move in the strike-threatening railroad deadlock following union rejection of a settlement plan.

In advance of the White House session, all signs pointed toward an administration request to Congress for legislation to bar the nationwide rail walkout scheduled for Thursday.

The President had told both sides in the work rules dispute that if they couldn't work out an agreement he would ask for new laws to protect the public interest. He has run out of delaying procedures under existing law.

Although there was no firm word on what might be proposed, Wirtz noted only a few days ago that speculation had centered around compulsory arbitration and government seizure and operation of the railroads or some combination of the two.

Rail unions turned down Sunday a government settlement formula which had been accepted by the railroads.

The five operating unions vowed a bitter fight to defeat any legislation proposed in the controversy.

A railroad negotiator repeated that the new rules—eliminating thousands of jobs the railroads contend are unnecessary—will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Thursday unless Congress passes legislation for one-shot compulsory arbitration to settle the dispute. The unions threaten to follow with an immediate strike.

The unions—which have contended the present job lineup is efficient and is necessary for the safe operation of the trains—rejected as "thinly disguised compulsory arbitration" the settlement formula proposed last week by Wirtz.

The Wirtz plan called for 20 days of negotiations to draft a temporary agreement on major issues, including implementation of a plan under which 40,000 firemen's jobs would be eliminated through attrition.

That was recommended by a presidential emergency board and backed by the Supreme Court.

If those talks failed, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds was to draft settlement terms.

Then union-management boards were to study the controversy over a two-year period and make binding settlement recommendations. If they couldn't agree, neutral board members were to be named to make settlement recommendations that would bind both sides.

The proposal was accepted "without reservations" by the railroads, Wirtz said. It was turned down by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The unions issued a statement denouncing the plan as compulsory arbitration and "a dangerous step toward totalitarianism."

The railroads contend the 40,000 firemen at the center of the controversy hold jobs that cost them $600 million a year in unnecessary wages.

The Association of American Railroads has estimated a strike would affect some 700,000 workers and tie up 217,000 miles of track.

Hope Honored for Employment of Veterans

NAACP Calls to Front Its Youth Corps

By JUNIUS GRIFFIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today NAACP youth groups have been "unshackled and will take a more aggressive role" in the organization's civil rights fight.

"Our 40,000-member youth corps will no longer be restrained or hampered by conservative policies of some local NAACP chapters," Wilkins said.

"They will receive direction from our national headquarters in New York and be free to plan and stage demonstrations under our existing constitution and directives."

Wilkins was interviewed by telephone from Charleston, S.C., where he had addressed an integration meeting Sunday night.

His comments on NAACP youth resulted from a bitter attack on the quality of the organization's youth leaders by James H. Meredith, the first known Negro to attend the University of Mississippi.

Meredith's criticism, made at the NAACP's annual convention in Chicago last week, was answered with a vehemence which caused Meredith to admit "I wept my first tears since I was a child." Meredith aroused the anger of the NAACP youth group by saying:

"Any one of you burr heads out there could be the owner of a large department store, president of a corporation, or even mayor of the city of Chicago. Only believe, all things are possible, if you only believe."

He also remarked on "the low quality and ineffectiveness of our Negro youth leaders."

Wilkins commended Meredith as a "very independent and courageous person."

"It was unfortunate, however, that he made the mistake of attacking our youth."

"Mr. Meredith endured much to be admitted to the University of Mississippi, but he is now out of step and evidently misinformed about the civil rights fight," Wilkins said.

Wilkins emphasized that the role of adults in the NAACP is not being de-emphasized but is being revamped to allow the organization's youth to participate more actively in the integration fight.

The NAACP leader said he had found the leadership in the youth group "intelligent, articulate, militant and free from fear, especially fear of certain economic reprisals some adults might have."

"I first suggested our youth should be utilized in direct action under national office supervision at our 1960 annual convention in St. Paul," he added.

"They will be active, very active in both planning and executing their activities."

"Our youth leaders are our future adult leaders. It is only fitting that they play an active and militant role in this social struggle."

'Doc' Kearns, 80, Fabulous Boxing Manager of Era of Jack Dempsey, Is Dead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two months ago Jack (Doc) Kearns, one of the most fabulous characters of boxing's golden era in the 1920s, said from a hospital bed: "Tell the mob I'll be back soon. I think I'll beat the count."

Sunday the man who managed Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight championship and who is credited with bringing the first million dollar gate to boxing by making it possible for women to attend fights without any social stigma, died at the age of 80.

"The last words my father spoke were, 'We have to get ready and get on the ball and go to Nevada,'" said Jack Kearns Jr., at whose home the old promoter died. He explained his father planned to establish a health center in Nevada and promote boxing there.

"His body just wore out," the younger Kearns said. "In two months confinement to bed he kept arguing with doctors that he had to be up and doing. He had the active mind and sense of humor of a young man."

Funeral services for the fabulous Kearns who in addition to dempsey managed Mickey Walker, Jess Maxam and Archie Moore to world championships, will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Philbrick Chapel in Coral Gables.

"I am sorry to hear it," Dempsey said in New York when informed of Kearns' death "but we had been expecting it. We had a lot of laughs together and we made a lot of money and he made me."

It was in 1917 that he first encountered Dempsey, then a mucker at the union iron mines in California. In two years he had maneuvered Jack into a title bout with heavyweight champion Jess Willard at Toledo, Ohio, under Rickard's promotion.

Dempsey demolished Willard in three rounds in that historic July 4, 1919 fight under a broiling sun.

Survivors include her brother, Will Blessett of Indianapolis, Miss.; five sons, Carl and Troy Greenlee of Hope, George and Tommy of El Dorado, and Jack of Lubbock, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Verna Freeman of Hope and Mrs. Colbert Barentine of Nashville, Ark.; twelve grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Garrett Memorial Baptist Church at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Burial will be at Rose Hill Cemetery by Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home.

Youth Meetings at Presbyterian

The Presbyterian Youth Fellowship tried to begin a new project. They decided that they would meet at the church each Wednesday evening at seven o'clock and have special programs.

Roy Allison will have charge of the program this Wednesday evening. Refreshments will be served.

The members of the Fellowship are inviting their friends to meet with them.

538 Die on Long 4th Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic deaths hit a record high for a four-day Independence Day holiday.

Traffic accidents cost the lives of 538 persons during the 102-hour holiday period extending from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday to midnight Sunday. The previous high toll for a four-day Fourth of July holiday was 509, set in 1961.

Belated reports probably will boost the final figure. There was a heavy spurt in fatalities Sunday and Sunday night as millions of motorists jammed highways in the homeward rush.

The National Safety Council, in a pre-holiday statement, estimated 550-650 persons would die in traffic accidents during the long weekend.

"It has been a costly weekend in terms of accidental death and injury, breaking all records for a summer holiday weekend," said Howard Pyle, council president.

"The wicked part of it is that at least 70 per cent of the damage was done through avoidable situations: speeds to great for conditions, failure to yield right-of-way, violation of the centerline in the road, and drinking and driving."

The council's figures show that traffic deaths in the first five months this year have averaged 100 per day.

An Associated Press survey of a four-day non-holiday weekend showed 458 traffic deaths. The 102-hour period was from 6 p.m. Wednesday, June 19 to midnight Sunday, June 23.

There were several multiple fatality accidents during this year's holiday.

In addition to traffic deaths 143 persons drowned and 41 others lost their lives in boating accidents.

Peronists Beaten in Argentina

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's voters today pushed a country doctor toward the presidency of South America's second largest nation and also gave a setback to exiled dictator Juan D. Peron.

Only 14 per cent of the voters heeded the Peronist call to cast blank ballots in Sunday's election. In previous elections boycotted by Peronists, blank ballots have run as high as one third of the vote.

It appeared, that about 2 million of Argentina's 11.5 million eligible voters stayed home despite fines prescribed in the compulsory voting law. This could be due to resentment at the barring from the race of the Peronist candidate, Vicente Solano Lima, who had been the favorite.

Arturo Illia, 62, held a steady lead as counting of the votes continued, but he fell far short of the 51 per cent required for election.

Voters cast ballots for electors dates not for the candidates. The Electoral College will meet July 31 to name a president. Since no candidate got 51 per cent of the vote, the electors are free to switch.

If no candidate gets a 51 per cent vote in the Electoral College, the election is thrown into Congress. There the choice is confined to the top three in the Electoral College voting.

With about half the vote counted, government figures gave Illia, 1,173,000 votes, or about 25 per cent. Dr. Oscar Alondro, former governor of Buenos Aires Province, had 824,430 votes, and retired Gen. Pedro Aramburu, a former provisional president, had 805,717.

"Don Nadie"—Mr. Nobody—the popular name given to the blank ballots was fourth with 680,900. Seven other candidates polled 1,147,376 of the 4,631,513 ballots counted.

The vote blank order came from the national and popular front, a seven-party coalition backed by Peron from exile in Spain and by imprisoned former president Arturo Frondizi. The Peronist-controlled Labor Confed, eration joined in the call and ordered a general strike next Friday.

Hart Suffers Broken Bone From Pitch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jimmy Hart looked great at the plate in his major league baseball debut Sunday, yet his 1963 career with San Francisco Giants may have ended the day it started—victim of an errant pitch from Bob Gibson.

"A disgrace," Manager Alvin Dark said after X-rays showed Hart suffered a fractured shoulder blade when hit by a Gibson pitch.

"An accident," the St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander maintained.

Called up from Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League on Saturday, Hart saw his first action Sunday in the first game of a double-header. He had two singles and two walks in seven batting appearances as the Giants edged the Cards 4-3 in 15 innings.

In the second inning of the second game, the rookie third-baseman tried to duck away from the pitch that hit his left shoulder.

Ernie Bowman, the next hitter, had to back away from a pitch and when Gibson came to bat in the top of the third, the Giants' Juan Marichal whistled a pitch past his head.

Plate umpire Al Barlick charged to the mound with a

Seat Belt Caution

Editor The Star: Just a word of caution regarding the automobile seat belt.

There is a right and wrong way to wear a seat belt—a New Orleans woman in a car collision had to have her spleen removed because she wore her seat belt loose and high across her abdomen and lower rib cage. The only advantage in this improper placed seat belt was that the woman was not thrown out and killed, — the soft tissues of her abdomen gave in with the impact causing her to fracture two ribs, strike her head on the windshield and her upper chest on the dashboard, in addition to rupturing her spleen, — she recovered.

Drs. WM. Cocke, Jr., and Kenneth Meyers said they believed this to be the first case in which a wrongly-worn seat belt caused rupture of the spleen—they pointed out that seat belts should be worn over the bony structure of the hips and pelvis, — and not across the abdomen.

Atlanta Is Twice Loser to Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas, after making Atlanta's invasion disastrous for the Crackers, turns tonight to Jacksonville in a game in Little Rock.

The crumbling Crackers, their International League Southern Division lead cut to two games, head for Richmond.

The Travelers trounced the Crackers twice Sunday, 7-4 and 3-2, to complete a four-game sweep. Indianapolis gained ground on Atlanta, snapping Syracuse's five-game victory streak 6-0. Columbus jolted Rochester 6-1, Richmond nipped Jacksonville in 10 innings, 2-1, and Toronto and Buffalo divided a twin-bill, Toronto winning the opener 9-8 and Buffalo taking the nightcap 4-1.

ARKANSAS—Partly cloudy and warm through Tuesday with widely scattered thundershowers; high today 90-98; low tonight 70-76.

Atlanta held a 4-2 lead going into the seventh inning of the first game. But when the inning ended Arkansas had rallied for five runs. Richie Allen and Cal Emery struck key blows, driving in two runs each. Arkansas took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the second game and scored the winning run when Cracker second baseman Phil Gagliano threw low to third trying to complete a double play. John Glenn homered for Atlanta in the second game.

Right-hander Joe Horlen, making his first start less than 24 hours after he was sent down to Indianapolis from the Chicago White Sox, pitched a six-hitter against Syracuse as Indianapolis picked up a game and a half on the Crackers. Joe Grzenda took the loss for the Northern Division leaders, yielding four runs in a fourth-inning Indian uprising.

A three-run homer by Orlando McFarlane sparked Columbus' victory over Rochester. Prior to McFarlane's 14th homer, Bob Burda singled in a tie-breaking run to make it 2-1. Loser Nels Chittum, Rochester's top winner, then served McFarlane a gopher ball.

Buffalo's Ray Apple pitched a four-hitter against Toronto in the second game of a doubleheader and got all the runs he needed when Dick Smith powered a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning. The Maple Leafs piled up a 9-1 lead in the opener, but barely held on for the triumph as Buffalo rallied for five runs in the seventh and picked up two more in the ninth.

Bob Schmidt's two-out single in the 10th inning drove in the winning run for Richmond as the Vees won a three-game series with Jacksonville, two games to one. Walt Bond lashed a 370-foot homer for the Reds' lone tally.

COSTS LESS TO INSTALL AND MAINTAIN

Electric air conditioning is standard, mass produced equipment from nationally-known makers. Installers are familiar with it, it's lighter in weight, easy to handle and install.

USES ONLY 1 SERVICE — NOT 3

Electric air conditioning needs only electricity, while other systems require a fuel line, an electrical connection and a water line. No flue is needed and neither is a cooling tower.

MUCH WIDER CHOICE OF UNITS

Electrical air conditioning is manufactured to meet every requirement — from one room to an entire building. And competition among manufacturers assures you the newest and best.

MUCH CLEANER — CUTS HOUSEWORK

Because it's flameless, electric air conditioning creates no dirt, has no fumes. Effective filters screen out dust and pollen and help maintain cleaner draperies, walls and floors.

FAMILY SLEEPS AND FEELS BETTER

By effectively cooling and conditioning the air in a home, summer-time sleeping becomes a new delight. One lives and works in greater comfort, actually has a happier disposition.

QUIET, MORE EFFICIENT COOLING

The simplicity of electric air conditioning means more efficient conversion of hot, humid air to cool, comfortable air. No disturbing noise from blowers or other parts of equipment.

HUMIDITY CONTROL PROVED BEST

One of the most important jobs of air conditioning is the control of humidity and electricity does it better by maintaining colder temperatures in the coils which remove the excess moisture.

1 WITH A FLAMELESS HEAT PUMP:

The famous Heat Pump, using only air and electricity, is really a year-round weather maker! That is, in summer it pumps ideally conditioned air all through your house — the most balanced and invigorating cooling imaginable! In cold weather, the Heat Pump automatically reverses and pumps cozy warm air throughout the house. In one compact unit, here is the perfect way to air condition a home ... and to heat it, also!

2 USING PRESENT DUCT SYSTEM:

This is a very popular way to add Flameless air conditioning to an existing home which already has a built-in duct system. Here, the compressor and associated equipment is installed outside the home, while the evaporator, fan and filter are placed inside — perhaps in the attic, or anywhere convenient to the duct run. If your home has a duct system, you'll want to investigate this economical way to add the comfort of house-wide electric air conditioning.

3 BY MEANS OF WINDOW UNITS:

This is the equipment that sold America on the comfort of electric air conditioning, and it is still the most popular way to summer comfort in older homes and apartments or rental units. The thing to remember in buying a window unit is to make sure its cooling capacity matches the area you wish to air condition. That's why it is very helpful to your dealer to know the size of the room, the number of windows it has and its geographical exposure to sun.

Miss Anna Whitman

Entertained With Breakfast Miss Anna Whitman, who will wed Gene Gammill of Port Arthur, Tex., on July 21, was entertained by Mrs. James Gilbert of Memphis and Mrs. Jim Cole with a breakfast at the Heritage House on Saturday, June 15.

The honoree was attired in a pink summer frock and pinned a talisman rose corsage at her shoulder. In the lovely dining room the table was covered with a white damask cloth and centered with a bride's white memory candle. A gift of silver marked Miss Whitman's place.

In addition to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. E. J. Whitman, places were laid for Mrs. Bill Hairr, Mrs. Harold Douglas, Miss Sue Ann Smith, and the hostesses.

Independence Day Picnic

At Hope Country Club On the 4th of July at the Hope Country Club more than 200 members and guests gathered for the annual Independence Day Picnic. The potluck supper was served at the conclusion of the golf tournament, which had been held during the day.

Colorful zinnias decorated the serving table, and an arrangement of greenery was seen on the mantle. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hairr, A. A. Albritton, Bill Hinkle, Ray Allen, Fred Hunt, J. B. Ingram, Graydon Anthony, Russell Carver, H. M. Olsen, Joe Hankins, Mrs. Roy Allison and Mrs. E. P. O'Neal.

Besides the club members, Mrs. Garrett Story, Mrs. Tom Wardlaw, and Mrs. Dewey Camp were also guests. During the refreshment hour, an ice course was served to the two tables of players.

The Weisenbergers Entertain The Brooks-Weisenberger Wedding Party

Judge and Mrs. Royce Weisenberger entertained the Brooks-Weisenberger wedding party with a rehearsal dinner Wednesday, July 3 at the "Holiday Inn" in El Dorado.

The bride-elect, Miss Gloria Brooks, was attired in a blue chiffon dinner dress and pinned a corsage of fleur d' amour at her shoulder. She and her fiancé, Royce Stewart Weisenberger, Jr., chose this time to present gifts to the members of the wedding.

A green and white color scheme was used in the decorations. White stocks, bells of Ireland, and white candles centered the table where covers were laid for 16.

Mariner-Bailey Exchange Vows

In the home of Rev. James Harold Marcum on Wednesday evening, July 3, Miss Parvly Mariner and Joe Bailey were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mariner of Hope, Ark., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Eula Bailey of Prescott, Ark. The Rev. Marcum officiated at the doubling ceremony. The bride wore a mint green dress of cotton chiffon with a bodice accented with fine tucks, scoop-neckline and a yoked of white lace. Her accessories were white.

Following the ceremony a reception was given by Mrs. James Harold Marcum Sr. and Miss Muriene Faught in honor of the couple. The table was covered with a white lace table cloth centered with white candles and a miniature bride and groom. Cake and punch was served to close friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will make their home in Prescott, Ark.

Circle 1, W.S.C.S. Meets

Circle 1, W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church, met in the home of Mrs. Willy Mae Ramsey with Mrs. E. P. Young, Sr. as co-hostess and Mrs. M. L. Fox, Sr. Circle leader.

The meeting was opened with a hymn reading, "Savior, Let Me Walk With Thee," following with prayer.

After the roll was called and the minutes read of the last meeting, by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Miller, old and new business was discussed.

Mrs. Johnnie Green brought a devotion on "The Protection of God," followed by prayer.

Mrs. C. L. Weaver, program chairman, presented a very interesting program. Mrs. Bill Routon had charge of the skit presented by Mrs. Routon and Mrs. Weaver. The purpose of the program was to show that you were a missionary.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served to 16 members present with one visitor, Mrs. Claude Nunan, W.S.C.S. president.

PAPA'S JOB AS SHERIFF PRECIPITATES FAMILY CRISIS

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Papa is the town sheriff which, in this little village, means a one-man police force. He is called out at all hours because of the wild crowd, mostly teens, who travel the new highway.

The local filling station has been held up twice, homes burglarized, and the head of the Ladies Aid Society robbed as she was coming home from our church one night with the nite box donations. The bandits didn't get much but the poor woman was frightened half to death.

People blame Papa because he hasn't yet found the robber. This and lack of sleep makes him very touchy. Mama and I are nervous too but for a different reason: an ever-increasing pile of unpaid bills. Papa just doesn't make enough to meet expenses.

We want him to go stay with my brother who lives in a big city where there are plenty of good-paying jobs. My brother made a special trip here last Sunday to try and convince him that this was the thing for him to do.

Papa blew his top. Said he, no, was still running the show and quit nagging. I fear to raise the subject again. Is there any way Mama and I can convince him that he should be earning more (and he can) for ourselves? — Want to Know

Dear Want to Know: A famous author once wrote that most men lead lives of quiet desperation, and this seems to be pertinent to the life your law-enforcing father is leading, except that his is a noisy life of desperation.

Between the lines, I can read

Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore. and Dave Ragan as Daytona Beach, Fla.

A number of other top golfers were not able to attend the tournament because they are competing in the British Open, tournament chairman Joseph Miller said.

Telephones made their first appearance in Little Rock in 1879.

one reason why Papa is over-spending the family income. He's emotionally spent. The new highway shattered your father's vocational peace. It channeled small crime waves into what was once the quiet pool of his responsibilities. It added hit-and-run bandits to his once localized province, and I sympathize with him. He needs a fleet of pursuit cars and a helicopter to do today what a village sheriff could have done yesterday with a slow sedan.

You and your mother shouldn't keep on goading him into changing locations. He needs another kind of help. I feel strongly that the man should run the business side of family life, but don't advocate it when his emotional condition is such that he is tracked toward bankruptcy.

Can you operate a budget? Why not sit down with him some evening, say you understand what's knowing at him, and asked if he's willing to let you manage the family finances for two months. Tell him you want to take some of the load off his back and work your way out of debt.

Ask your brother if he'll help with a favorable loan (very low interest or none at all) to knock the peak off your bill of debt and let you see a little sky. Then settle down determined to live within your income even if it means cutting back on things you and your mother now think indispensable.

And every time you hear a criticism of your father's professional competence, ask the critic about raising the village appropriation for law enforcement. He needs an assistant, the backing of state police, and your handwriting on the family ledger. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Financial Troubles."

Dear Helen: I am marrying a professional singer. He wants to sing "Because" at our wedding. At what point in the church ceremony would it be appropriate for him to do so? —Question Mark

Dear Question Mark: At no point—because the groom is generally so nervous that his voice might break, thereby breaking up the wedding, also because he might be accused of being in with his voice instead of with a tape recorder of "Because," and play it at the end of the ceremony.

Dear Helen: I read the letter a 13-year-old girl wrote asking you approved of her going to boy and girl party. You said was too young. What's wrong with 13-year-olds going to dances together? —Thirteen

Dear Thirteen: There is nothing wrong with school and home dances where adults are present. Without supervision, anything can happen.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of the newspaper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Something To Think About By The Oakcrest Funeral Home & Burial Association

Many times we have been asked: "Why can't we increase our Burial Protection?" Now, this can be done. In view of the many following reasons, we now have a new Cash Burial Plan for the entire family, which is additional protection to your present Burial Policy.

Death is tragic enough in itself, but when all the unexpected expenses that go hand-in-hand with it are added to sorrow and grief, the total burden that must be faced by those left behind, it is something to think about.

Some families do have money set aside for just such emergencies. Most families, unfortunately, do not. Death — so frequent an occurrence in these modern times, almost always finds us totally unprepared.

On the other hand, a long lingering illness, drains the family savings slowly, but surely. Cost of medicines, doctor bills, perhaps a hospital bill—these are the items that pile up on top of the inescapable expenses that must be met.

To be burdened with these inevitable expenses is so unnecessary. Our new cash policy will give each member of the family up to $1,000.00 in additional protection. This added protection may be used for the above mentioned expenses, or you may choose to use your cash policy for a number of other reasons, such as cemetery lots, monuments, flowers, burial vault or funeral expenses.

Remember; this cash policy is available to everyone, and is good anywhere, regardless of your present insurance program.

We earnestly urge you to think about the above facts, and take advantage of this new cash protection.

Hart Suffers Broken Bone From Pitch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jimmy Hart looked great at the plate in his major league baseball debut Sunday, yet his 1963 career with San Francisco Giants may have ended the day it started—victim of an errant pitch from Bob Gibson.

"A disgrace," Manager Alvin Dark said after X-rays showed Hart suffered a fractured shoulder blade when hit by a Gibson pitch.

"An accident," the St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander maintained.

Called up from Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League on Saturday, Hart saw his first action Sunday in the first game of a double-header. He had two singles and two walks in seven batting appearances as the Giants edged the Cards 4-3 in 15 innings.

In the second inning of the second game, the rookie third-baseman tried to duck away from the pitch that hit his left shoulder.

Ernie Bowman, the next hitter, had to back away from a pitch and when Gibson came to bat in the top of the third, the Giants' Juan Marichal whistled a pitch past his head.

Plate umpire Al Barlick charged to the mound with a

Seat Belt Caution

Editor: The Star: Just a word of caution regarding the automobile seat belt.

There is a right and wrong way to wear a seat belt—a New Orleans woman in a car collision had to have her spleen removed because she wore her seat belt loose and high across her abdomen and lower rib cage. The only advantage in this improper placed seat belt was that the woman was not thrown out and killed. — the soft tissues of her abdomen gave in with the impact causing her to fracture two ribs, strike her head on the windshield and her upper chest on the dashboard, in addition to rupturing her spleen, — she recovered.

Drs. W.M. Cocke, Jr., and Kenneth Meyers said they believed this to be the first case in which a wrongly-worn seat belt caused rupture of the spleen—they pointed out that seat belts should be worn over the bony structure of the hips and pelvis, — and not across the abdomen.

Atlanta Is Twice Loser to Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas, after making Atlanta's invasion disastrous for the Crackers, turns tonight to Jacksonville in a game in Little Rock.

The crumbling Crackers, their International League Southern Division lead cut to two games, head for Richmond.

The Travelers trounced the Crackers twice Sunday, 7-4 and 3-2, to complete a four-game sweep. Indianapolis gained ground on Atlanta, snapping Syracuse's five-game victory streak 6-0. Columbus jolted Rochester 6-1, Richmond nipped Jacksonville in 10 innings, 2-1, and Toronto and Buffalo divided a twin-bill, Toronto winning the opener 9-8 and Buffalo taking the nightcap 4-1.

Atlanta held a 4-2 lead going into the seventh inning of the first game. But when the inning ended Arkansas had rallied for five runs. Richie Allen and Cal Emery struck key blows, driving in two runs each. Arkansas took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the second game and scored the winning run when Cracker second baseman Phil Gagliano threw low to third trying to complete a double play. John Glenn homered for Atlanta in the second game.

Right-hander Joe Horlen, making his first start less than 24 hours after he was sent down to Indianapolis from the Chicago White Sox, pitched a six-hitter against Syracuse as Indianapolis picked up a game and a half on the Crackers. Joe Grzenda took the loss for the Northern Division leaders, yielding four runs in a fourth-inning Indian uprising.

A three-run homer by Orlando McFarlane sparked Columbus' victory over Rochester. Prior to McFarlane's 14th homer, Bob Burda singled in a tie-breaking run to make it 2-1. Loser Nels Chittum, Rochester's top winner, then served McFarlane a gopher ball.

Buffalo's Ray Apple pitched a four-hitter against Toronto in the second game of a doubleheader and got all the runs he needed when Dick Smith powered a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning. The Maple Leafs piled up a 9-1 lead in the opener, but barely held on for the triumph as Buffalo rallied for five runs in the seventh and picked up two more in the ninth.

Bob Schmidt's two-out single in the 10th inning drove in the winning run for Richmond as the Vees won a three-game series with Jacksonville, two games to one. Walt Bond lashed a 370-foot homer for the Sens' lone tally.

COSTS LESS TO INSTALL AND MAINTAIN

Electric air conditioning is standard, mass produced equipment from nationally-known makers. Installers are familiar with it, it's lighter in weight, easy to handle and install.

USES ONLY 1 SERVICE — NOT 3

Electric air conditioning needs only electricity, while other systems require a fuel line, an electrical connection and a water line. No fuel is needed and neither is a cooling tower.

MUCH WIDER CHOICE OF UNITS

Electrical air conditioning is manufactured to meet every requirement — from one room to an entire building. And competition among manufacturers assures you the newest and best.

MUCH CLEANER — CUTS HOUSEWORK

Because it's flameless, electric air conditioning creates no dirt, has no fumes. Effective filters screen out dust and pollen and help maintain cleaner draperies, walls and floors.

FAMILY SLEEPS AND FEELS BETTER

By effectively cooling and conditioning the air in a home, summer-time sleeping becomes a new delight. One lives and works in greater comfort, actually has a happier disposition.

QUIET, MORE EFFICIENT COOLING

The simplicity of electric air conditioning means more efficient conversion of hot, humid air to cool, comfortable air. No disturbing noise from blowers or other parts of equipment.

HUMIDITY CONTROL PROVED BEST

One of the most important jobs of air conditioning is the control of humidity and electricity does it better by maintaining colder temperatures in the coils which remove the excess moisture.

1 WITH A FLAMELESS HEAT PUMP:

The famous Heat Pump, using only air and electricity, is really a year-round weather maker! That is, in summer it pumps ideally conditioned air all through your house — the most balanced and invigorating cooling imaginable! In cold weather, the Heat Pump automatically reverses and pumps cozy warm air throughout the house. In one compact unit, here is the perfect way to air condition a home ... and to heat it, also!

2 USING PRESENT DUCT SYSTEM:

This is a very popular way to add Flameless air conditioning to an existing home which already has a built-in duct system. Here, the compressor and associated equipment is installed outside the home, while the evaporator, fan and filter are placed inside — perhaps in the attic, or anywhere convenient to the duct run. If your home has a duct system, you'll want to investigate this economical way to add the comfort of house-wide electric air conditioning.

3 BY MEANS OF WINDOW UNITS:

This is the equipment that sold America on the comfort of electric air conditioning, and it is still the most popular way to summer comfort in older homes and apartments or rental units. The thing to remember in buying a window unit is to make sure its cooling capacity matches the area you wish to air condition. That's why it is very helpful to your dealer to know the size of the room, the number of windows it has and its geographical exposure to sun.

Mrs. Tom Kinser

All the Friday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. Tom Kinser on July 5, Mrs. H. C. Whitworth and Mrs. C. C. Lewis were high scorers. Besides the club members, Mrs. Garrett Story, Mrs. Tom Wardlaw, and Mrs. Dewey Camp were also guests.

During the refreshment hour, an ice course was served to the two tables of players.

The Brookes-Weisenberger
Wedding Party

Judge and Mrs. Royce Weisenberger entertained the Brookes-Weisenberger wedding party with a rehearsal dinner Wednesday, July 3 at the "Holiday Inn" in El Dorado.

The bride-elect, Miss Gloria Brooks, was attired in a blue chiffon dinner dress and pinned a corsage of fleur d'armer at her shoulder. She and her fiancé, Royce Stewart Weisenberger, Jr., chose this time to present gifts to the members of the wedding.

A green and white color scheme was used in the decorations. White stocks, bells of Ireland, and white candles centered the table where covers were laid for 16.

Mariner—Bailey
Exchange Vows

In the home of Rev. James Harold Marcum on Wednesday evening, July 3, Miss Patsy Mariner and Joe Bailey were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mariner of Hope, Ark., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Eula Bailey of Prescott, Ark.

The Rev. Marcum officiated at the doubling ceremony. The bride wore a mint green dress of cotton chiffon with a bodice accented with fine tucks, scoop-neckline and a yoked of white lace. Her accessories were white.

Following the ceremony a reception was given by Mrs. James Harold Marcum Sr. and Miss Marlene Faught in honor of the couple. The table was covered with a white lace table cloth centered with white candles and a miniature bride and groom. Cake and punch was served to close friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will make their home in Prescott, Ark.

Circle 1, WSCS, Meets

Circle 1, WSCS, of the First Methodist Church, met in the home of Mrs. Willy Mae Ramsey with Mrs. E. P. Young, Sr. as co-hostess and Mrs. M. L. Fox, St. Circle leader.

The meeting was opened with a hymn reading, "Savior, Lend Me Walk With Thee," following with prayer.

After the roll was called and the minutes read of the last meeting, by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Miller, old and new business was discussed.

Mrs. Johnnie Green brought a devotion on "The Protection of God," followed by prayer.

Mrs. C. L. Weaver, program chairman, presented a very interesting program. Mrs. Bill Routon had charge of the skit presented by Mrs. Routon and Mrs. Weaver. The purpose of the program was to show that you were a missionary.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served to 16 members present with one visitor, Mrs. Claude Nunzi, WSCS president.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Cox of Fulton announce the marriage of their daughter Carolyn to Gerald Andrew Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Taylor of Hope, Ark.

The wedding took place in Hugo, Okla., Monday July 1 at 4 p.m.

The couple will live in Ireland where Mr. Taylor is stationed with the Navy.

DOROTHY DIX

PAPA'S JOB AS SHERIFF PRECIPITATES FAMILY CRISIS

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Papa is the town sheriff which, in this little village, means a one-man police force. He is called out at all hours because of the wild crowd, mostly teens, who travel the new highway.

The local filling station has been held up twice, homes burglarized, and the head of the Ladies Aid Society robbed as she was coming home from our church one night with the mile box donations. The bandits didn't get much but the poor woman was frightened half to death.

People blame Papa because he hasn't yet found the robber. This and lack of sleep makes him very touchy. Mama and I are nervous too but for a different reason: an ever-increasing pile of unpaid bills. Papa just doesn't make enough to meet expenses.

We want him to go stay with my brother who lives in a big city where there are plenty of good-paying jobs. My brother made a special trip here last Sunday to try and convince him that this was the thing for him to do. Papa blew his top. Said he, not us, was still running the show and quit nagging. I fear to raise the subject again. Is there any way Mama and I can convince him that he should be earning more (and he can) for ourselves? — Want to Know

Dear Want to Know: A famous author once wrote that most men lead lives of quiet desperation, and this seems to be pertinent to the life your law-enforcing father is leading, except that his is a noisy life of desperation.

Between the lines, I can read

Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore. and Dave Ragan as Daytona Beach, Fla.

A number of other top golfers were not able to attend the tournament because they are competing in the British Open, tournament chairman Joseph Miller said.

Telephones made their first appearance in Little Rock in 1879.

one reason why Papa is over-spending the family income. He's emotionally spent. The new highway shattered your father's vocational peace. It channeled small crime waves into what was once the quiet pool of his responsibilities. It added hit-and-run bandits to his once localized province, and I sympathize with him. He needs a fleet of pursuit cars and a helicopter to do today what a village sheriff could have done yesterday with a slow sedan.

You and your mother shouldn't keep on goading him into changing locations. He needs another kind of help. I feel strongly that the man should run the business side of family life, but don't advocate it when his emotional condition is such that he is tracked toward bankruptcy.

Can you operate a budget? Why not sit down with him some evening, say you understand what's knowing at him, and asked if he's willing to let you manage the family finances for two months. Tell him you want to take some of the load off his back and work your way out of debt.

Ask your brother if he'll help with a favorable loan (very low interest or none at all) to knock the peak off your bill of debt and let you see a little sky. Then settle down determined to live within your income even if it means cutting back on things you and your mother now think indispensable.

And every time you hear a criticism of your father's professional competence, ask the critic about raising the village appropriation for law enforcement. He needs an assistant, the backing of state police, and your handwriting on the family ledger. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Financial Troubles."

Dear Helen: I am marrying a professional singer. He wants to sing "Because" at our wedding. At what point in the church ceremony would it be appropriate for him to do so? — Question Mark

Dear Question Mark: At no point—because the groom is generally so nervous that his voice might break, thereby breaking up the wedding, also because he might be accused of being in love with his voice instead of with you. Have him make a tape-recording of "Because," and play it at the end of the ceremony.

Dear Helen: I read the letter a 13-year-old girl wrote asking if you approved of her going to a boy and girl party. You said 13 was too young. What's wrong with 13-year-olds going to dances together? —Thirteen

Dear Thirteen: There is nothing wrong with school and home dances where adults are present. Without supervision, anything can happen.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Something To Think About

By The Oakcrest Funeral Home & Burial Association

Many times we have been asked: "Why can't we increase our Burial Protection?" Now, this can be done. In view of the many following reasons, we now have a new Cash Burial Plan for the entire family, which is additional protection to your present Burial Policy.

Death is tragic enough in itself, but when all the unexpected expenses that go hand-in-hand with it are added to sorrow and grief, the total burden that must be faced by those left behind, it is something to think about.

Some families do have money set aside for just such emergencies. Most families, unfortunately, do not. Death — so frequent an occurrence in these modern times, almost always finds us totally unprepared.

On the other hand, a long, lingering illness, drains the family savings slowly, but surely. Cost of medicines, doctor bills, perhaps a hospital bill—these are the items that pile up on top of the inescapable expenses that must be met.

To be burdened with these inevitable expenses is so unnecessary. Our new cash policy will give each member of the family up to $1,000.00 in additional protection. This added protection may be used for the above mentioned expenses, or you may choose to use your cash policy for a number of other reasons, such as cemetery lots, monuments, flowers, burial vault or funeral expenses.

Remember; this cash policy is available to everyone, and is good anywhere, regardless of your present insurance program.

We earnestly urge you to think about the above facts, and take advantage of this new cash protection.

BUSY, BUSY, BUSY
By IRMA SCHMIDT

John Whittier Forsythe was neither very young nor very old. He was 38 but looked much younger. His blue eyes were direct and lively. His features, though irregular, gave his face an arresting quality. Two nights of workouts at the Y.M.C.A. kept his figure trim.

As account executive of a large advertising firm he put in long hours six and often seven days a week. But he didn't mind. The work was a stimulus, an excitement that never let him down. That was more than most people could say. There was one exception. John Forsythe smiled with satisfaction whenever he thought of her.

Irene Caldwell, his secretary, had worked for him about three years. A lovely girl, Irene. A small-boned brunette with deep violet eyes. Good secretary, too. From the first he knew that some day he would ask her to marry him. The business had kept him so occupied, however, that it had been two years before he had gotten around to asking her.

Irene had readily accepted him and woman-like began planning a big wedding. They had set the date in May but in April John learned that he would have to go to New York and spend several weeks there securing a large account.

"Of course, I understand, dear," Irene had said. "We'll just postpone the wedding."

He had known then just what a treasure he had. In the months that followed when, again, the wedding had to be postponed on short notice, Irene seemed most understanding.

At last the wedding had been planned for the Fall. It didn't seem as though anything would intervene this time. But something did. One of the company's largest accounts was threatening withdrawal. John knew that only he could straighten things out.

"You understand, dear, I know," he had explained. "A couple weeks in Tucson and I'll be back. Of course, you'll have to set a new date." When she remained silent he had pressed, "You do understand, don't you, darling?"

She had given him a long searching look, he remembered, then said quietly, "Of course John your secretary understands perfectly, but I'm afraid your fiancée doesn't."

With this she had taken off his engagement ring, laid the magnificent diamond in his hand and then went back to her typing. He had let things rest there, thinking that when he returned from Tucson she'd be in a more reasonable frame of mind. But although he had urged her to react to his ring she had repeatedly refused.

"Please, darling," he had pleaded, "wear it again. You know I love you."

"Do you, John?" she would murmur absently. "That's nice. Here's the data you wanted on the Johnson account."

That's how it had been. Every time he had brought up the subject of her becoming his fiancée again she had evaded the issue. Now, he realized suddenly that this had been going on for the last eight months.

"Golly," he groaned inwardly. "It can't be that long."

How faithfully she had served him! A wonderful secretary. Never absent a day except for her yearly vacations. Funny, she never did tell him where she had gone this year.

He decided to ask her again to marry him. He couldn't blame her for being stubborn. He had kept her waiting. He smiled to himself as he realized this was her way of getting even. Well, she'd punished him enough.

"Irene," he began brightly, "what do you say to stopping all this nonsense and really getting ourselves married this time?"

"Why, I couldn't, John," Irene said. "Not now."

"Oh, Irene, I know you've been getting even with me for all

"Do you, John?" she would murmur absently. "That's nice. Here's the data you wanted on the Johnson account."

That's how it had been. Every time he had brought up the subject of her becoming his fiancée again she had evaded the issue. Now, he realized suddenly that this had been going on for the last eight months.

"Golly," he groaned inwardly. "It can't be that long."

How faithfully she had served him! A wonderful secretary. Never absent a day except for her yearly vacations. Funny, she never did tell him where she had gone this year.

He decided to ask her again to marry him. He couldn't blame her for being stubborn. He had kept her waiting. He smiled to himself as he realized this was her way of getting even. Well, she'd punished him enough.

"Irene," he began brightly, "what do you say to stopping all this nonsense and really getting ourselves married this time?"

"Why, I couldn't, John," Irene said. "Not now."

"Oh, Irene, I know you've been getting even with me for all

Nationals 6 to 5 Bet on All-Star

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The National League, winner of five of the last seven games (excluding a tie), ruled a 6-5 choice today to defeat the American League in Tuesday's 34th All-Star game at vast Municipal Stadium.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected, largest since 35,105 in Los Angeles watched the Americans defeat the Nationals 5-3 in the second of two games in 1959. The game is scheduled to begin at noon (EST) and will be carried by NBC radio and television.

The game will mark the return to one All-Star game after four years of doubles. Despite its recent defeats, the American League holds a 17-15-1 edge in the series dating back to 1933.

This will be the first game at Cleveland since 1954, when the Americans won, 11-9, on a bases-filled bloop single by Nellie Fox. The veteran infielder will be the American League's starting second baseman again Tuesday.

Managers Alvin Dark and Ralph Houk, who will be master-minding the rival forces, will not announce their batting orders and starting line-ups until 24 hours before game time.

However, it was expected that Dark, mindful of the four left-handed hitters in the American League's starting line-up, would name Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's 13-game winning southpaw.

Houk, also playing the percentages, will select a right-hander to oppose the predominantly right-handed hitting National League squad. The Yankee skipper originally had leaned to Jim Bunning, Detroit's right-handed ace who has pitched brilliantly in previous All-Star games.

Bunning, however, pitched nine innings Sunday and Houk has hinted he may go with Boston's

Bill Monbouquette. Monbouquette lost in relief Sunday, but pitched only four innings and Houk said "it wasn't enough to trouble him."

Five of the American League's seven All-Star pitchers worked Sunday and only Jim (Mudcat) Grant of Cleveland is fully rested.

While both are determined to win, the rival managers approach this game with different attitudes. If they stick to their original intentions, Dark will keep his starters in the game as long as possible while Houk will make whole, sale substitutions as soon as it is legally permissible.

The Nationals boast a glittering outfield comprised of Tommy Davis, the league's leading hitter, Hank Aaron, the No. 1 man in homers and runs batted in, and Willie Mays, perhaps baseball's best all around performer.

Ed Bailey, San Francisco's left-handed hitting catcher and an all-St. Louis infield of Bill White, Julian Javier, Dick Groat and Ken Boyer, complete the starting line-up. Javier replaces Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski, who had to withdraw because of an injured leg.

Also on the NL squad will be Stan Musial, who will be appearing in his 24th consecutive All-Star game.

The Americans will open with Los Angeles' Leon Wagner, their No. 1 batter, in the outfield, along with teammate Albie Pearson and Detroit's Al Kaline who is hobbled with an injured leg. Pearson replaces Mickey Mantle, the player's No. 1 choice for centerfield, who has been sidelined with a foot fracture.

Joe Pepitone, another Yankee, opens at first base, with Fox at second, Boston's Frank Malzone at third, Minnesota's Zoilo Versalles at short and the Twins' Earl Battey behind the plate.

Don Zimmer Is Senators' Powerhouse

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For 32-year-old Don Zimmer, baseball life has been one hot spot after another.

With the Dodgers he was expected to make them forget the retired PeeWee Rees. At Chicago it was Ernie Banks, who moved to first base. And with the New York Mets, the whole team.

At Cincinnati it was Gene Freese, who broke his leg. At the Dodgers again he filled in for the injured Maury Wills.

Finally, Zimmer landed where he wasn't expected to replace anybody—the hapless Washington Senators. So far, he has been something to remember.

He drove in seven runs Sunday, four with a grand slam home run, got four hits and raised his batting average to .306, as the Senators fashioned their longest winning streak since 1949—seven straight.

Washington, coming on under new pilot Gil Hodges, took a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels, 7-3 and 6-4. The Angel losing streak stretched to eight, one shy of the team record. The league-leading New York Yankees split a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians, losing 11-3 and winning 7-4 in 10 innings, on Yogi Berra's double and some sloppy Indian fielding. That left the Yanks five games in front in the American League at the All-Star break. The Chicago White Sox were second, after they scratched out a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in 12 innings.

In other games, Baltimore beat Minnesota 4-3 and Detroit and Kansas City split. The Tigers winning the opener 5-1 and the A's the second 8-7.

The Red Sox, Twins and Orioles were all six games back, in that order on percentage points.

In the National League, Los Angeles swept two from Cincinnati, 4-0 and 3-1, while San Francisco and St. Louis split. The Giants won the first 4-3 in 15 innings while the Cards took the second 5-0. Pittsburgh handed the New York Mets their 10th straight loss 11-5. Philadelphia edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and Milwaukee blanked Houston 4-0.

The Indians blew the second game against the Yankees, after Jack Krackick breezed to his ninth victory in the first game, backed by homers by Max Alvis, Al Luplow and Joe Azcue.

The White Sox wasted a superb pitching effort by Hoyt Wilhelm, the 39-year-old knuckleballer making his first start in two years. He went nine innings, gave up only three hits—two of them dubious—but two errors and a misjudged double allowed the Red Sox to tie the game 1-1 in the ninth.

Mike Hershberger singled and Nellie Fox doubled in the 12th for the victory. The hits came off Boston ace Bill Monbouquette and the win went to Juan Pizarro, his 11th.

The Athletics ruined Frank Lary's return to the big leagues after a spell in the minors working his sore arm into shape. Lary was breezing along until the seventh when Ken Harrelson knocked him out with a homer that cut the Detroit lead to 4-3. The A's went on for seven runs in the inning.

Koufax and Spahn Post Victories

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax is a young left-handed pitcher on the threshold of greatness. Warren Spahn is a veteran left-hander who has lived in greatness for many seasons.

These two stars flashed their brilliance Sunday—one taking another step in his first really big year, the other adding another victory to a long string of triumphs.

Koufax fired his second straight shutout and eighth of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitching the National League front-runners to a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati in the opener of their doubleheader. His three-hit performance made him the first 14-game winner in the majors.

The Dodgers followed Koufax' masterful job with a 3-1 decision over the Reds that increased their league lead to three games over the San Francisco Giants, who split with St. Louis.

Spahn produced his gem in a night game at Houston, recording the 339th victory and 59th shutout of his 19-season career as the Milwaukee Braves downed the Colts 4-0.

The Cards ended a string of eight straight losses by taking the second game at San Francisco 5-0, with 42-year-old Stan Musial supplying the batting fireworks and Bob Gibson the pitching. An error by Ken Boyer enabled the Giants to win the 15-inning opener 4-3.

Also in the NL—the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets into their 10th loss in a row, 11-5, and Philadelphia edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 on a ninth-inning run produced on Ruben Amaro's triple and Cookie Rojas' pinch single.

In the American League—the New York Yankees split at Cleveland, winning 7-4 in 10 innings after being whipped by the Indians 11-3; the Washington Senators extended their longest winning streak in 14 years to seven, beating the Los Angeles Angels 7-3 and 6-4; Detroit trimmed Kansas City 5-1, then lost to the A's 8-7; the Chicago White Sox won at Boston, 4-1 in 12 innings; and Baltimore nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings.

Koufax continues to rack up impressive figures with his amazing pitching. He's 14-3 with an earned run average of 1.73, has already broken a Dodge season record for shutouts, and has the most in one year in the league since Mort Cooper got 10 for St. Louis in 1942. Sunday's victory was his seventh straight and 12th complete game.

Spahn, 12-4 and driving for his 13th 20-victory season, checked the Colts on five singles and one walk in his fourth shutout of the year. The 42-year-old master has allowed only one run in his last 37 innings—in a 16 inning, 1-0 loss at San Francisco last Tuesday night.

Musial, who smacked a two-run triple in the opener at San Francisco and collected four hits for the afternoon, broke a scoreless tie in the seventh inning of these two games with his 472nd career homer, following Dick Groat's single.

Jim Hart, Giant third baseman playing his first day in the majors, suffered a fractured left shoulder blade when hit by one of Gibson's pitches in the second game. Marichal drew a reprimand from umpire Al Barlick and an automatic $50 fine when he zipped one near Gibson's head in the next inning. Gibson also clipped Orlando Cepeda with a pitch later in the game.
